

New Hampshire
Archeological Society

Membership Application

Name: _____

Address: _____

Phone: _____

Email: _____

Membership:

_____ Individual ($25)

_____ Institution ($35)

_____ Senior - 65+ ($18)

_____ Student - photocopy of valid student ID required ($18)

Mail checks payable to NHAS:

New Hampshire Archeological Society
Attn: Treasurer
P.O. Box 406
Concord, NH 03302-0406

NHAS members volunteer in all temperatures including snow storms

NHAS curator Sheila Charles and Tanya Krajcik of the NHDHR at Strawberry Banke in 2012

Excavations at Canterbury Shaker
Village in 1994

Ken Rhodes on the Smyth Site
in Manchester in 1967

The cemetery at the Colonel Lewis B. Smith Site in Sandwich Notch was mapped by students in the summer of 2008

Photo credits: Sheila Charles; David Starbuck; Linda Fuerderer;
NH Division of Historical Resources; Laura Jefferson; Dick Boisvert;
Strawberry Banke Museum
©2013 New Hampshire Archeological Society

New Hampshire Archeological Society

www.nhas.org

BECOME A MEMBER TODAY

The Society organizes and preserves collections, publishes discoveries, and raises awareness of New Hampshire's heritage. Via our sponsored Archeology Month and spring and fall meetings, the NHAS offers presentations and social interaction throughout the state, often in conjunction with other New England archaeological societies.

Your membership brings you our annual journal and our spring and fall newsletters. You don't need a degree or years of experience – come see what your state has offered residents and visitors over the last 14,000 years!

NHAS board members Karen Malburne and Linda Fuerderer with artifact at Jefferson VI site in 2012

NHAS'old-timers' Peter McLane and Emanuel Valavane on the Smyth Site in Manchester in 1967

HISTORY OF THE SOCIETY

In 1947, a group of professional archeologists, amateurs, history buffs, and relic collectors formed the New Hampshire Archeological Society to provide a place to pool their experience, their knowledge and their enthusiasm.

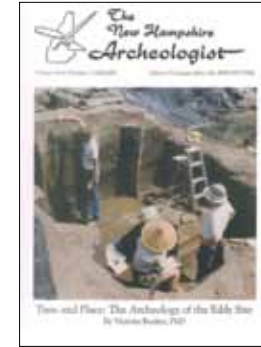

The Society has supported the formation of the New Hampshire Division of Historical Resources and SCRAP (State Conservation and Rescue Archaeology Program) a public participation program for archeological research, management and education, administered by the NHDHR.

NHAS board members Jon Edsall and Mike Malburne at the state lab admiring artifacts in 2005

OBJECTIVE OF THE SOCIETY

We promote, encourage, and stimulate the study of archeology in New Hampshire. We also encourage the protection and preservation of archeological sites, monuments, and artifacts.

Vol. 51, No. 1 2011

- ◆ Water-Powered Mill, Dam and Canal Sites in Wakefield, New Hampshire. Bunker, Charles, and Howe

Vol. 50, No. 1 2010

- ◆ Unearthing Donald Foster: An Interview with George Nicholas. Nicholas
- ◆ A Brief Look at the Collections of the New Hampshire Archeological Society. Greenly
- ◆ The Diverse Archeological Investigations of Strawberry Banke: Compelling Evidence of a Neighborhood over Time. Charles
- ◆ The Archeology of Water-Powered Sawmills. Howe

Vol. 49, No. 1 2009

- ◆ The Bomber Crash of 1942. Bunker
- ◆ Archeology and Geology of the Mount Jasper Lithic Source. Boisvert and Pollock
- ◆ The Restoration of a Staircase at Canterbury Shaker Village. Starbuck

Vol. 46-47, No. 1 2006-2007

- ◆ Time and Place: The Archeology of the Eddy Site. Bunker

For a complete list of past issues of The New Hampshire Archeologist, visit: www.nhas.org