

New Hampshire Archeology Month

APRIL / 2025

stra · tig · ra · phy: noun

/strə'tigrəfē/

1. the branch of geology concerned with the order and relative position of strata and their relationship to the geological time scale.
2. the analysis of the order and position of layers of archeological materials.

Fig. 1

Fig. 2

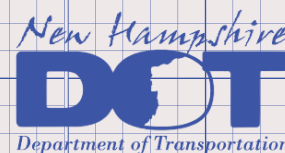

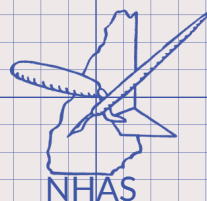

Fig. 3

These figures represent stratigraphic profiles of the soils at the Mollidgewock State Park Archaeological Site in Errol, New Hampshire. Using radiocarbon dating, diagnostic artifacts, and stratigraphic analysis, archeologists were able to document recurring occupations from the early archaic period to present day.

new hampshire
archeology
month is sponsored by:

to learn more about archeology
month events, visit nhas.org

poster by marika labash / mark doperalski